Sounds good.

I can handle street vending.

Let's put video on back burner until mid week. This stuff is definitely more imp't.

No worries on michelle. I'll check in with her.

Thanks,

Hi JL,

Decided to step out and finish work from home the rest of the day today. Want to make sure you know where I am at on everything:

Expect to see residential packet draft 1 before ~8pm today.

I skimmed through street vending stuff really quickly but I honestly need to slow down and take a closer look. Just to be very clear - you asked me to put a few bullet points together. What was the final purpose of this so that I know how to direct my work?

The call with Ryan today was weird. He's not sure he wants to produce a video with the 10 year footage due to poor quality. He wants to follow up tomorrow after watchig the footage again.

Obviously board packet stuff took up more time than expected today. I'm looking forward to knowing that our materials on hand are up to date. Really sorry for putting us in the situation. I am more than happy to email Michelle and let her know that this is my mistake.

Best,
LH
